WEAK, NERVOUS WOMEN.

Dr. Laury McHenry Gives Them Some Good Advice.

HEADACHE AND WEAKNESS

The Doctor Tells How They May be Quickly relieved —He Says Women are Suffering Needless Pain---The Secret of their Happiness.

'Oh how my head aches!'

Far too often is this exclamation made by some suffering woman She is weak and nervous, and some excitement, some strain on the nerves, has brought on a racking headache She has chilly feelings, a sickness at the stomach, and other painful symptoms, but above all she has this throbbing, this nerve-splitting aching of the head which nothing seems to relieve

Can nothing be done to relieve this terrible agony

'Yes' is the answer given by Dr Laury McHenry, a celebrated physician who has devoted a life time to the study and cure of just such troubles as these He says

Take things easier Do not fret Do what you can and don't worry about work left undone Sleep more than you do Now there are many means of speedy relief, but the cure that I want you to make is thorough complete and lasting, and like all things well done, requires patience To sum it all up The radical permanent cure for sick headache in weak nervous women must combine the following A general toning of the system regular habits and plenty of sleep at the right time

Yes you say I would gladly try anything to be freed from the suffering I endure but how is it to be done What shall I take for it? There are so many remedies how am I to choose the right one These are reasonable questions there are so many tonics nervines, sarsaparillas, and other concoctions claimed to be ready reliefs ... which in reality, only make matters worse Physicians will tell you that there is only one safe and reliable cure ... medical science that really does ... and nourish the worn out nerves, permanently cures ... What this great remedy is, and what it will do for suffering women is ... in the words of some who have ... what a few well known ... about its wonderful power

... who wrote 'When the ... and many other popular songs and who resides at Hartford, Conn says One year ago I lay at death's door a complete mental and physical wreck I had neither hope nor ambition enough to desire life My dear little children had ceased to give me joy or cheer I was moody by day, despondent and sleepless at night At times I fell into ... losing all power over nerve or muscle My feet and hands were like ice and my heart almost pulseless In such a time my nurse and friend administered something for which I was always profoundly grateful The first dose imparted warmth to my body I began to gain vitality rapidly and steadily, day by day I feel now as if I could endure everything without its tiring me, and it is all due to that grand discovery that wonderful specific for the nerves that conquers all prostration Paine's celery compound My literary labors are such that I write sometimes far into the 'wee sma' hours,' consuming the midnight oil, but not as of yore, consuming brain, nerve and muscle, without being replenished I would not be without this grand compound for its 'weight in gold'"

To the same effect are the earnest, outspoken words of Mrs C E Prescott who resides at No 8 Worcester St, Cambridgeport Mass, which are as follows

"There is nothing like Paine's celery compound It has helped me wonderfully For more than five years I have been troubled with constipation My heart was so weak that I could not do any kind of work without a terrible throbbing Every since I can remember I have had nervous headaches of the worst sort I have taken several bottles of Paine's celery compound and find it the only thing that helps me I heartily recommend it to all suffering from the complaint with which I was afflicted, for this compound has done me such a marvelous amount of good that I want others to know of its value."

Can anything be more convincing than this? And if this great compound could do so much for these ladies, may it not be just what you require to prevent the coming on of untimely age, the withering of the energies, and drooping of the life? If this great discovery has been so grand a friend of thousands, does it not stand to reason that it may also prove a friend to you?

MURDERER COY EXECUTED

The Closing Scenes Very Affecting

PITTSFIELD, Mass, March 3 This morning found murderer William Coy in as comfortable frame of mind as could be expected, considering the ordeal before him The night was a very hard one for him After his sister, Mrs Baker left him at 9 25 P M he was visited by Rev Dr Newton and Dr Clymer, who prayed and talked with him until 10 30 Then the newspaper men were admitted for their closing interviews and to them Coy made a final statement, in which he expressed his public appreciation of the efforts of his counsel and his spiritual advisers He re-asserted his statement that he killed Whalen in self defense, and said he was reconciled to God and would die in hope of immortality. Coy retired about two o'clock this morning and passed the balance of the night in a restless state He was up at five o'clock when the other prisoners filed past his cell to say good-bye Then he sought his cot again and secured a short nap At eight o'clock he ate a hearty breakfast, after which he received a farewell visit from his sister The parting was very affecting At nine o'clock the jail was placed under guard

At 10 30 Sheriff Crosby and four deputies proceeded to Coy's cell, where the prisoner was found in prayer with Revs Newton and Clymer The Sheriff read the death warrant, the deputies pinioned the doomed man's hands and immediately the procession to the gallows was begun Coy was pale and trembling and was supported by the two deputies. Arriving on the scaffold, Coy was placed on the trap, the clergymen reading alternately from the Scriptures, while his legs and arms were strapped. As the black cap was placed on Coy's head, Dr. Newton stepped forward and said, "Coy desires me to say he has given his heart to God and asks for mercy and forgiveness for his crime He forgives all who have spoken against him and goes hence with charity for all and malice toward none" The noose was adjusted about the prisoner's neck The Sheriff read the sentence of law, and as the last words left his lips he pressed the spring. It was 10 43 when the drop fell. His legs twitched convulsively a few times and the body hung motionless at the end of 5 minutes and 55 seconds The body was taken down at 10 50½ and the doctors found the neck broken. Death was painless and there was no sensation after the fall The execution went off without the slightest hitch Coy's body was placed in a plain board casket and turned over to his sister who will take it to Wisconsin for burial

A Portland piano tuner tells the Transcript that within the past year he has found mouse nests in four different pianos The other day he was called in to see a piano, the hammers of which struck the strings several times when a key was touched He knew that this was because something was the matter with the hammer tapes the purpose of which is to hold the hammers so that they shall strike the strings but once He found that every one of the eighty odd pieces of tape had disappeared and the mouse's nest was soon discovered It was a bunch as large as one's fist, composed of the missing tapes chewed into a pulpy mass The mice generally enter a piano by climbing up along the pedal shafts, and almost invariably make use of the hammer tapes for their nests

SATURDAY MARCH 4 1893

FOR MAYOR

FLAVIUS O. BEAL.

The House Declines to Recede

When the hospital matter was reported back to the House yesterday from the Senate the first named body insisted on its vote and asked for a conference. The Senate granted the request and a conference committee was appointed consisting of three members from each body. When the committee comes together next week it will be evenly divided on the main question, but it is hoped that some agreement may be reached.

It looks as if the Governor took an unprejudiced and unbiased course to defeat the Eastern Maine Hospital appropriation as very pronounced. It is argued that had there been passed it would have gone to him for his signature thus affording him ample opportunity to interpose his veto on it if in his judgment the State is too poor to take care of the insane in a humane and proper manner. He says in his message that the power of making appropriations rests with the Legislature and this being the fact the members are held to a strict account why it is that the Executive interferes with the functions of the Legislative branch of the government in a case letting it alone to the regular course and not put in unwilling to attach his signature to the appropriation of the session.

Senator Thatcher's position in the matter which seems to have been prepared with a view of studying down the upper limit. He tried to get the two regions that were admitted to the Eastern Maine Insane Hospital but failed in the Senate. From Mr. Hatch's report we learn that the cost of the upper limit and expenses of the Insane include every thing of the kind except the actual cost of the committees and amounts to $81. The cost of the establishment of the Eastern Maine Hospital is estimated at $181,000. Now if $181 is granted this will cover an appropriation of $181,000. Senator Thatcher calls attention to the fact that the estimate that is not included in any statement of estimated cost except that is the claim that protection is a national and a robbery of the people in favor of the few that the country is to be taxed not because of it but in the interest and the war pledge to wage the tariff. With the Senate in their control the Democrats cannot dodge this pledge without admitting that they have betrayed the people for political advantage.

One Week More.

But one week now remains before the voters of this city will have to decide in whose hands the municipal affairs shall be placed for the ensuing year. It should be a busy week, one calculated to bring out the full Republican vote. If this is done there will be no question as to the result, but if the people are inactive or allow any personal feeling to influence their action at the polls, the Democrats will receive the benefit and may gain control of the city. Bangor's proper place is in the Republican column and all that is needed to keep the city in line is united effort on the part of the Republican voters.

That the affairs of the city have been prudently and faithfully looked after by Mayor Beal, cannot be questioned. Even his opponents have to admit that he has zealously guarded the interests of the city and has devoted the greater part of his time to public affairs. In consideration of these facts he has been unanimously renominated and should be re-elected by a decisive majority. Let it be remembered that the election this spring will be under the Australian ballot, so that in the days now remaining the people may study the same so as to make the least possible number of mistakes when they go to the polls.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.

House Insists Upon Its Action on the Insane Hospital Plan.

Committees of Conference Appointed by the House and Senate.

Resolve in Favor of Maine General Hospital Tablet in Senate.

Augusta, March 3. The Senate this morning indefinitely postponed the bill to repeal the conspiracy act by a vote of 17 to 6.

The House insisted upon its action in passing the Bangor insane hospital resolve. Conference committees were appointed by the Senate and the House.

The committee on the part of the Senate was composed of Messrs. Mallet, Swanton and Winslow, and on the part of the House, Messrs. Adams, Harris and Parker.

The resolve in aid of the Maine General Hospital, at Portland, was tabled on passage to be enacted in the Senate on motion of Mr. Thatcher. The taxation of trust companies was discussed in the House.

The ward line bill passed the Senate and it now goes to the Governor for his signature.

The Governor has signed the act abolishing the Aroostook Superior Court.

Among the bills presented to-day was one which provides for the Municipal Court at Sanford and changes the salaries of the judges of the York county municipal courts.

The bill was introduced providing a penalty for wearing Sons of Veterans' badges by those not entitled to. A bill defining the duties of town auditors was introduced.

A special train from Auburn brought five hundred and fifty Auburn people here to attend the hearing on the Auburn Aqueduct Company's charter this afternoon.

Notes.

The Senate refused to concur with the House in not appropriating money for the insurance of the State Normal school building. Messrs. Thatcher, Shaw and Allen spoke against concurrence.

There was presented the remonstrance of A. L. Goss, and 1,24[illegible] others of Auburn against any amendment or modification of Auburn's water charter. The remonstrance went into the House from the Senate.

In the House an act was introduced fixing the salary of the register of deeds of Penobscot county at $1,500 this to be the remuneration instead of the fees, the fees to be paid to the county.

When the printing and binding contracts came in the House they were tabled on motion of Mr. Weeks, of Fairfield.

In the House working men sent in a long list of petitions for an employers' liability act.

A resolve was presented that the sum of six dollars per month, military pension, be paid Newall B. Prince, of Gray.

There was presented an act that no action be maintained in any court in the State against any inhabitant who obtained a discharge from his debts under the insolvent laws, upon any claim or demand of any kind or nature that would have been discharged by said insolvency proceedings if proven against said estate.

The Senate

resolved that the State pension agent is hereby authorized to expend a net sum under the direction of the Governor and council, not exceeding two hundred dollars yearly, as may be necessary, to properly examine the claims presented to his office, the same to be paid out of the appropriation for soldiers' pensions for the year 1893.

Resolved, That the sum of $200 be appropriated for the benefit of Mr. Davis of the Sixth Maine Battery, and the further sum of $100 be appropriated for the outfit of Company D, United States sharp-shooters, that the names of said battery and company may have their proper place and inscription on the high water mark monument on the Gettysburg battle-field.

It was ordered that the Committee on Legal Affairs inquire into the expediency of defining by law the duties of auditors of towns, no money to be paid out of the town treasury unless the expenditures or terms of contract and demands be approved by the auditor on an order drawn by the selectmen; he shall receive all accounts, bills, etc., against the town and examine them in detail.

The Legislature adjourned this afternoon to next Monday afternoon.

of this winter was that on the Auburn water case this afternoon, 550 coming from Auburn on a special. Representative hall was crowded. Testimony to show the inadequacy of the present system was put on. F. L. Noble, Esq., opened with a review of the case. Judge Symonds made plea for the company, asking that the city's water charter be held good for only a year while the company could make necessary changes.

Hon. O. D. Baker spoke for the citizens. He claimed that it would be a great injustice to take away the charter, that the company had failed to fulfill the agreements.

The Governor signed the "ward line" bill this afternoon. The Committee on Agriculture unanimously voted against the pool selling bill. The Oxford county delegation gave a brilliant reception at the Capitol this evening.

CONGRESSIONAL.

An All-Night Session Held by Both Branches.

Making Desperate Attempts to Close Up Business.

The Two Bodies Disagree on Nearly all Points.

Senate.

Washington, March 3. The conference report on the post-office bill was agreed to, also a conference report on the agricultural bill and the naval bill.

The conference report on the legislative appropriation bill was agreed to.

The House joint resolution, passed last night as to the payment of clerk hire for members, was passed. The conference report on the post-office appropriation bill was agreed to. The conference report on the agricultural bill was passed without question. The conference report on the naval appropriation bill was agreed to.

The McGarrahan bill was, on motion of Mr. Teller, taken up for consideration. The credentials of W. H. Rouck, Senator-elect from North Dakota, for the full term of six years from March 4, 1893, were presented and placed on file.

The McGarrahan bill was temporarily withheld from action to have some morning business disposed of. The proposition made by Mr. Sherman to take up House bills on the calendar was subject to objections. Mr. Teller signified his willingness to yield for the purpose, but Mr. Hill said he should object unless a limit of time was fixed for House bills on the calendar. Mr. Sherman suggested 30 minutes and Senators Teller and Hill assented to the proposition. Thirty-five House bills were passed. Most were pension bills, including one for the daughter of a Revolutionary soldier.

The Senate bill relating to copyright was passed. (It authorizes the copyright to issue where two copies of a book or other copyright article sent to the library of Congress or mailed before March, 1893.) The House bill to continue the duty of 35 per cent on linen containing 100 threads to the square inch (the rate now approved by law) was passed with an amendment to take effect in 1895 instead of 1894. The McGarrahan bill was taken up. Mr. Morrill moved an amendment referring the case to the United States District Court for Southern California, instead of the court of private land claims.

Without disposing of the bill the Senate took a recess till 8 P. M.

When the recess had expired the galleries showed a compact mass of spectators. The attendance of Senators was not proportionate to the spectators. The recess was extended another quarter of an hour. When that time had expired the conference report on the deficiency bill was read. It shows an agreement upon all points except the French spoliation claims, Pacific Railroad judgments, and clerks for Representatives, all being reserved for further action.

Mr. Pasco inquired as to the Florida claim inserted in the bill last night. Mr. Hale, in charge of the bill, replied that the amendment had gone the way of most of the amendments. The House conferees had shown themselves simply obdurate as to all State claims. He stated that whatever might come in the future on a well considered bill reported from some committee of either House, they could not agree to let them come in on an appropriation bill.

The conference report was agreed to. The Senate voted to insist on amendments not settled in conferences and have a further conference as to them. The conference report on the sundry civil bill was presented, showing several points on which the conference was unable to agree. Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, explained the report. The Senate conferees had receded from the item of $25,000 for the entertainment of special guests invited by the President of the United States.

Also from the items of $25,000 for the entertainment, by the government of the United States, of such distinguished representatives of foreign governments as might be in this country during the year; also from amendments to pay a year's salary to the widows of Chief Justice Waite and Justice Miller, of the United States Supreme Court. There are now in controversy five amendments and after the Senate should have agreed to the conference report he would move that the Senate insist on these amendments and ask for a further conference. The report was agreed to.

After debate Mr. Allison's motion that the Senate insist on the World's Fair amendment was carried, all the negative vote being Democratic. The conference report on the Indian appropriation was agreed to without objection.

Senator Hoar called up the message of the House announcing that it had passed over the President's veto providing for the appointment of a district attorney and marshal for middle Alabama. The bill was passed over the veto, ayes 58, nays 1.

As midnight drew near the Senators slowly drifted out of the chamber until only about a score were in their seats. The McGarrahan claim bill was taken up. The opponents of the bill offered amendments to kill time and the amendments were invariably voted down.

The bill was finally passed, yeas 37, nays 12. It now goes to the House. Mr. Hale then presented the conference report on the deficiency appropriation bill. The report was adopted and it is now ready for the President's signature.

House.

The rules were suspended and the Senate amendments to the general deficiency bill were non-concurred in. The bill was sent to conference.

Mr. Holman submitted a disagreeing conference report on the sundry civil bill, and the report was agreed to.

A motion was made that the House recede from the disagreement to the Senate amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill providing for a government exhibit at the World's Fair. Mr. Reed, of Maine, said: "It became essential to the dignity of the government that it should assume control of the exposition in some respect. A special committee has been appointed and it comported with the honor and dignity of the nation that they provide for carrying out the plans of that committee. To refuse to sustain the acts of that committee would be to denationalize the exposition and make it a local spectacle. Whatever complaints might be made about Chicago, the magnificent appearance of the exposition buildings and grounds surprised him. He was proud of the imperial city of the West and believed the people of the United States would stand by the Representatives in making this exposition a spectacle suitable to testify to the people of the world the grandeur of the United States—blessed forever. (Applause.)

After further debate the question was put upon the motion to recede. The motion was lost. Pending further action on the sundry civil bill the conference report on the naval appropriation bill was agreed to. The conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill was agreed to. The conference report on the post-office appropriation bill was agreed to and the consideration of the Senate amendments of the sundry civil bill was resumed. The World's Fair amendments were disagreed to and the bill was again sent to a conference.

The House took a recess till 8.

Sweeping through the corridors, overflowing the great capacity of the galleries and trickling into the committee room, was the vast flood of humanity which the House met after recess. On the floor there was not a quorum of members present. Mr. McRae, of Arkansas, submitted the conference report on the bill to protect settlemen rights, when two or more persons settle on the same agricultural lands before survey. Mr. Tracey, of New York, raised the question of consideration. The House decided to consider the report.

The conference report changes the entire purpose of the bill and changes the title. The Speaker ruled the report out on the ground that the conference committee had gone beyond its proper jurisdiction. Mr. Sayers, of Texas, submitted the conference report on the general deficiency bill. The main point of disagreement was the Senate amendment for the payment of French spoliation claims. The conference committee reported a difference on this question. Mr. O'Neil, of Massachusetts, moved to recede from the disagreement to the amendment.

Mr. O'Neil's motion was disagreed to and the bill was sent to conference. The conference report on the Indian appropriation bill was presented. Pending discussion the conference report on the deficiency bill was agreed to.

Washington, March 4, 2.25 A. M. Congress is still in session, the Senate making vain attempts to secure a quorum. There is no prospect of an immediate adjournment of either house.

Now your blood should be purified. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine and blood purifier.

USE LEON'S SARSAPARILLA. "THE KIND THAT NEVER FAILS."

INAUGURATION DAY.

All is Ready for the Ceremonies of To-day.

Immense Throngs of People at the Capital City.

Last Proceedings of President and His Household.

Washington, March 3. One slight change in the programme for to-morrow was adopted by the inaugural committee at the suggestion of Mr. Cleveland. It was intended to have the new President leave the procession at the southeast entrance to the White House grounds, so that he might reach the reviewing stand in time to see the head of the procession pass. Mr. Cleveland's plan is that he pass the reviewing stand in his carriage and leave the line at the Executive avenue, half a block farther on and enter the White House grounds at the central western entrance. It is understood that Mr. Cleveland secured this change to gratify Mrs. Cleveland, whose position in the box at the Capitol, facing the northern part of Pennsylvania avenue would not allow her to see her husband in his triumphant return from the Capitol if he left the line at the place selected by the inauguration committee.

The last day of the outgoing executive is always busy and fatiguing. To-day at an earlier hour than usual President Harrison was at his desk going over bills ready for examination and approval. He was subjected to constant interruptions until late in the afternoon. Before the hour of opening the House to the public the President received a number of callers, chiefly Senators and Representatives interested in measures on his desk awaiting his signature. After the exchange of calls with Mr. Cleveland and the leave taking of the cabinet the President received members of the diplomatic corps, who called in a body

To Say Farewell.

Nearly every member of the corps was present. In the intervals between the semi-public functions, the President was called upon to furnish autographs to numerous seekers. The President at 3 bade adieu to Major Halford, who left the house to take the train for New York. Benjamin and Mary McKee, in charge of their governess, made the rounds of the house before the hour of closing, saying good bye to the clerks and employes and expressing regret over the coming separation.

In the afternoon President Harrison received and accepted the resignation of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Gear, and Solicitor of the Treasury Hepburn. These officials are members-elect of the 53d Congress, and quit to retire from the Department to-day.

Among the President's other callers were Justice Jackson, of the United States Supreme Court, his brother, Gen. Jackson, and Col. and Mrs. McClure, of Philadelphia.

This evening at 7.30 Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were entertained at dinner en famille by President Harrison and Mrs. McKee. Mr. McKee, Lieut. Parker and Mrs. Dimmick were the only persons present. The affair was entirely informal and the meal was partaken of in the private dining room. This morning President Harrison will go to the Capitol, driving with President-elect Cleveland.

Mr. Cleveland will go to the room of the Vice President and remain until the hour for the inauguration ceremonies to begin.

President Harrison, accompanied by members of his cabinet, will spend the last half hour of his term in the President's room, disposing of the closing business of Congress.

The passenger stations in the city were surrounded by a surging mass of people awaiting friends from abroad. Every incoming train deposited quota of troops and distinguished visitors who received enthusiastic welcome from the great crowds of spectators. The various State national guards as they arrived formed in line under escort and with appropriate airs marched along the thoroughfares into Pennsylvania avenue wending their way to the quarters assigned them. Tammany Hall was most conspicuous among the numerous organizations on the avenue. The visiting Governors were objects of much attention.

The hotels of the city are already overcrowded and nothing better than cots to be placed in the halls can be had.

He Has Experience in Shaking.

Vice President-elect Stevenson remained in his apartments all day, with but slight cessation. There was a stream of callers. Fully 3,000 people paid their respects during the day. General Stevenson and family in the public dining room at 6. After dinner they repaired to the public parlor, where they had a reception. For an hour or more they were kept busy receiving the greetings of friends and partisans. The Vice President-elect shook by the hand nearly 10,000 friends.

The Scenes About the City

have been of the most animated description all day and to-night shows no abatement. There was a constant stream of arrivals issuing from the railway stations all day and the marching music of many organizations has kept the air vibrating melodiously. It took but a few short hours to-day to convert the national capital into one great camp of armed men.

Regiment after regiment and club after club poured into the city. The streets were thronged and the hotels, boarding houses and lodging houses were swarmed. The greater portion of the visitors is now here. It began to sprinkle about 8 o'clock this evening, and the rain still continues though the fall thus far is light. The signal office predicts rain or snow in the morning, and probably clearing during the day.

RAILROAD SUED

By Many Persons as Result of Fatal Accident.

Providence, R. I., March 3. Suits for damages aggregating $600,000 against the Consolidated road, which have been brought by the families and relatives of victims of the sleighing fatality at Lonsdale, will come before the present term of the supreme court.

Two writs were placed against the road to-day with damages fixed at $20,000 each, at the instance of Ellie M. and Cassius E. Armstrong, in connection with the Shannock fatality of Monday, February 6. John Edwards, of this city, will bring suit for $5,000 for injuries received in the Norwood accident. Other suits are likely to follow.

EIGHTEEN ROUNDS

Were Necessary to Knock Out Brulser Joe Goddard.

New Orleans, La., March 3. Joe Goddard, the Barrier Giant, and Ed Smith, the Denver pugilist, met to-night in the arena of the Olympic Club for a purse of $10,000, the loser to take barely enough to defray training expenses.

It is estimated that at least 5,500 spectators occupied seats and private boxes. Goddard was knocked out in the 18th round.

In the Dawson-Greeney fight the referee counted both out in the third round.

THE POOR WOMEN

Will be Obliged to Wait Yet a While Longer.

New York, March 3. A special to the Evening Post from Winnipeg, Man., says: The Legislature yesterday rejected the bill asking for the full enfranchisement of women.

AMUSEMENTS.

At The Norombega.

The Wallace Hopper Dramatic Company gave "Little Ferret" at The Norombega last night and the performance was well attended. The play passed off smoothly and pleased the audience. The company will close its two weeks' engagement this evening by the presentation of "Ranch 10." Popular prices prevail.

Enlargement Necessary.

Eaton's cafe, East Market Square, is being enlarged and improved. The kitchen, formerly in the rear of the second floor, has been moved up one floor and the space is being utilized for the extension of the dining room, which is hereby made much larger. The changes are made necessary by the large and increasing business which shows that Mr. Eaton's efforts to please his many patrons are being appreciated. Many Bangor citizens and people from out of town find the cafe an excellent place in which to obtain a meal or regular board. The food is nicely cooked and served; the menu is a well chosen one and the location of the cafe is very convenient. Mr. Eaton is constantly making improvements.

LOCAL MATTERS.

There will be a special meeting of the managers of the King's Daughters Union this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Home.

The annual St. Patrick's Day entertainment under the auspices of the Catholic parishes will be given at City Hall on the evening of March 17th.

A number of the friends in this city of Mr. C. H. Bean, the genial postmaster at East Bangor, paid him a visit Thursday evening at his residence and were courteously received. A fine musical programme was given and numerous games indulged in. During the evening choice refreshments were served and the party very reluctantly left for home at a late hour.

Albert Davis, of Belfast, was released from jail yesterday, after serving a sentence of thirty days, but it was not long before he again claimed the attention of the Municipal Court. After leaving jail he obtained some liquor and tried to treat the prisoners at the jail, but was caught in the act. Judge Vose deemed thirty days more for him advisable under the circumstances.

Mr. William H. Fahey, a young man about twenty-one years of age and very popular among his associates, died at the residence of his father, Mr. John Fahey, on Essex street, at an early hour yesterday morning of typhoid fever. He has been employed in some of the principal clothing stores of the city and was in the establishment of Meyer M. Levy when taken sick a week ago. His funeral will take place Monday morning at nine o'clock from St. John's Catholic church.

A Maine man is to cook for people all over the world who like clam chowder, when the Columbian Exposition is on in Chicago. Mr. Morris, of Portland, formerly of this city, is now erecting a building in Chicago to cost some $30,000 or $40,000 for the dispensing of clam chowder to hungry mortals. The clams will be brought from eastern waters and by packing in ice will be kept fresh. The location is near the fair grounds and the place will without doubt be liberally patronized.

We learn that the two savings banks of this city have each determined to make the coming April dividends at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum. For some time past the dividends have been at the rate of four per cent., but it is the policy of these banks to make absolute safety rather than a high rate of interest their controlling motive of action in making investments. For some time past the best securities have been placed at very low rates. This fact and the fear of adverse legislation have constrained our savings banks to slightly reduce their dividend.

John J. Cronin was before the Municipal Court yesterday on a search and seizure process, the police officers having obtained quite a large haul at his place on Broad street, and also for single sale. For the former offence he was fined $100 and costs, and sentenced to 60 days in jail, with 60 days additional in default of payment, and for the latter $50 and costs and 30 days in all, or 30 days additional in default of payment. The warrant was sworn out by Michael McGraw, who said that about a month ago he had given some of his money to Cronin to keep for him and when he asked Cronin for it he had refused to let him have it. Cronin appealed both cases.

M. on Wednesdays and Saturdays for Castine, Southwest Harbor, Bar Harbor, Millbridge, Jonesport and Machiasport, and as soon as ice permits Deer Isle, Sedgwick (Blue Hill) and Brooklyn. Returning the boat will leave Machiasport for Rockland, weather permitting, on Mondays and Thursdays at 4 A. M., via the same landings.

It was decided yesterday to have the High School military drill optional instead of compulsory as heretofore, and 65 of the boys have decided to continue the drill. This will make one full company. Officers will soon be appointed by Major Chilcott. An executive committee, one from each class with Major Chilcott and Miss Snow, ex-officio, as civil government, was appointed yesterday.

Pleasant Sociable.

The last of the winter's series of sociables was given at the First Parish church vestry last evening and it was a much enjoyed social event. There was a large attendance of the members of the parish, all of whom were most pleasantly entertained. A delicious supper was served at 6.30 and afterward the following programme was given in an excellent manner:

Harmonica and piano duett, Messrs. Casey and Holden; recitation, Miss Delia Grant; exhibition of ventriloquism, etc., Mr. Fogg, of the Theological Seminary; travesty on the poem "Hoenlinden;" piano solo, Miss Kerr; reading, Mrs. Dongan; flute solo, Miss Baker.

All of the selections were finely given and elicited much applause. The remainder of the evening was passed socially.

Efficient "Fire-Laddies."

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

Dear Sir—Will you kindly give place in your columns to a few words of merited praise of our friends?

I have three glass show cases at the entrance to Kenduskeag Block, and they were not injured in the slightest during the recent fire. The fact speaks well for our "fire-laddies" and is more eloquent than any words, that they are true to the purpose of saving property.

Sincerely,

A. K. Dole.

"SHE SECURED A BARGAIN."

A Woman's Familiar Remark

OVERHEARD AT THE DRY GOODS STORE.

An Interesting Incident—A Chat Full of Interest to Women—Some things are Told that are not Generally Known—Why so Many Ladies Feel Tired and Worn Out after Visiting the Stores.

"I secured a splendid bargain."

I overheard a lady make this remark to a companion just after coming out of one of those extensive houses that conduct bargain counters. Her face was very earnest and her eyes sparkled, but I could see in the paleness, in the lines upon her face that she had been suffering and was even then suffering. I understood that she had saved money in the purchase she had made but I could see that she had lost the greatest of all human bargains—good health.

How many women there are to-day who are unhappy and suffering, and yet who do not fully realize why it is so. They feel weak, weary and often discouraged. They care little for food and less for exercise. Their sleep is disturbed, their minds are not at rest. They are unhappy. To all such the following experience will be interesting and valuable.

Mrs. M. A. Brensing who resides at No [illegible] W. 17th street, New York, has passed through a most wonderful experience which should be of interest and value to all ladies. She said: "A few years ago I was suddenly seized with an illness which I could not account for. My body was in a constant pain and very sensitive, so that I could not bear the contact of any but the lightest garments. I can scarcely tell of the agony that I suffered during that time. The physicians informed me that I could not possibly live and my friends were called in to bid me farewell. I was almost in the entrance of death when my husband sent for a remedy of which he had heard and gave me a small quantity. After taking the second dose a peaceful restful feeling seemed to steal over me and for the first time in several days I slept. From that time my recovery was assured. I grew gradually better until my health was fully restored. I thank God that my life was spared through the agency of Warner's Safe Cure. It cured me and I know that it will cure others."

Testimony that is beyond question is given by Mrs. E. L. McMurray of St. Paul avenue, Staten Island, N. Y., who says: "My mother, Mrs. S. A. Vanderbilt, and myself owe our health, and I almost feel our lives, to Warner's Safe Cure. I speak from a long experience. I recently had a most severe attack of influenza arising from a cold, and the safe cure made me feel like a new person. Other members of our family and also many friends and acquaintances have received equal benefit and all highly recommend it."

Mrs. [illegible] residing at No. 62 Lexington avenue, New York, said: "About eight years ago I suffered from peritonitis and general kidney trouble, and in spite of the attendance of skilled physicians my ailments increased. Upon advice of some friends I began the use of Warner's Safe Cure and was cured entirely. I feel as well to-day as in my early girlhood, and it is entirely due to this great remedy. Many of my friends to whom I have recommended the safe cure have been cured by its use and their lives thus prolonged and their happiness assured."

Mr. M. M. Simonton, of Buckley, Mo., says: "My daughter, who was once the perfection of health and happiness, was for years afflicted with kidney and liver disease complicated with scrofula, the hip joint being affected. She became so bad that the doctors wanted to unjoint the hip. I would not consent to it and began administering a remedy which I had heard much about, and I am happy to say she is now cured, well and healthy by the use of Warner's Safe Cure."

Reader, the greatest bargain known to the world is good health. Do you not wish to secure and retain it?

Gave Maria a Lesson

Evidently there is no Servant Girls' Protective Union in London, or if there is the young woman mentioned below did not belong to it. Think of such a thing happening to one of our own toplofty servant girls! A German merchant in London has a servant who at first was very fretful. This fault was especially annoying at meal times when something essential was sure to be lacking from the table. One day the family were seated at the table and the bell was rung as usual. The girl hurried to the dining room.

"Maria," said Herr B——, "just run and fetch the big step ladder down from the attic and bring it here."

Maria, who had been disturbed at her dinner, gave a grunt of dissatisfaction, but ran up three flights of stairs to fetch the ladder. In about five minutes she returned to the room panting with her exertion.

"Now," said Herr B——, "put it up at that end of the room and climb to the top."

Maria did as she was told, and when she was at the top Herr B—— quietly observed:

"Maria, you have now got a better view than we have. Just look around and tell us if you can see any salt on the table. My wife and I could not find it."

This settled the business. Maria has never forgotten the lesson.

Last week a wag of a woman out in Harlem was sweeping off her doorstep, when a friendly housemaid strolled by, and mistaking the sweeper for one of her clan, she addressed her without formality.

"Good morning! Got a good place?"

"First class!"

"How much wages do you get?"

"My board and clothes."

"Your board and clothes? Well, you're a fool. You can get twenty dollars a month as well as not," replied the stroller with emphasis.

"Ah, yes—but, you see, I have privileges—I'm the wife of the proprietor."

"Oh!"

NORTHERN PACIFIC'S CONDITION

A Committee of the Stockholders Report the Result of a Five Months' Investigation That Gross Mismanagement Has Greatly Injured the Property.

The committee of stockholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company appointed last October to investigate the condition and management of the property, has rendered its report, which is signed by Henry Clews, Brayton Ives, and Jay Cooke, Jr. As a result of the examination the physical condition of the company was found to be excellent, but the financial management of the road is severely criticised.

A three weeks' tour of inspection was made by the committee last fall, during which the entire main line and branches, amount to 5,400 miles, were visited, with the exception of 879 miles of roadway. The terminal facilities at Chicago and other important points were inspected and were found to be in excellent condition. The committee endorse all that has been said in the reports of the President and general manager on the subject of the increase of general business, and state that there is every prospect of a steady yearly increase in the transportation of lumber, coal, grain, cattle and general merchandise.

Regarding the finances of the Northern Pacific the report says that the floating debt has been somewhat reduced since June 30. On January 1 it was $9,219,000 of which only $650,000 is payable on demand. On a little more than $8,000,000 of this amount the company is paying 6 per cent interest and a commission of 2 per cent. The action of the board in renewing a loan of $727,000 due the chairman of the board on January 20 is commented upon. The loan was renewed at 6 per cent and a commission of 2 per cent. At the time the rate for demand loans was 2 per cent and millions were offered on time at from 4 per cent to 5 per cent.

The action of the board in leasing unprofitable branch roads is condemned with considerable emphasis. A conspicuous instance is the purchase from a syndicate represented by Henry Villard of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba Railroad, which property was an actual loss to the company during the past fiscal year of $306,253. The acquisition of the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railroad at the price paid for it, is referred to as an act of stupendous and incredible folly.

Other evidences of unwisdom in the acquisition of subordinate lines are presented in detail and the following comment is made by the committee: "It is high time for stockholders to call a halt and see whether they have any rights. If the present management will not give prompt assurance that its reckless course shall be stopped at once and an end put to the incurring of new liabilities and losses it would be wise to appeal to the courts for protection."

But while the moral aspect of the case and the financial results thus far are depressing, there is reason here also to take a more hopeful view for the future, providing the management be improved. Reckless as has been the financiering, there can be no question but that the property acquired has great value. Given honest and intelligent management, and there is good ground for believing that the Northern Pacific Road will eventually justify the hopes of its projectors and reward the patience of its long suffering and sorely tried stockholders.

Lieut. Peary's Dogs Enjoy the Snow and Amuse Crowds at the Zoo

People clear from Harlem came to the Zoo yesterday, to see Lieut. Peary's dogs, which were placed on exhibition there for Sunday only. The animals were worth seeing, judging from the remarks made by the visitors. They were placed in the outside lion house cages, where there was any amount of cold air and snow. The cages were half full of the latter and the dogs thoroughly enjoyed it. All day they rolled about in it, ate it, and kicked it about. It reminded them of their old Greenland home apparently.

Probably twenty thousand people went to see the dogs, and all day until closing up time the space about the cages was packed.

It was a large crowd for a Sunday, anyway, but although it was bad walking the air was pure and bracing and the sun shone brightly. The crowd bordered on a mob at times, small boys predominant to such an extent that the officers and keepers were obliged to refuse them admittance to some of the buildings because of their aptitude for creating trouble. The dogs were taken away at seven o'clock last night, but will be on exhibition all this morning. At noon they will be taken away for good and the Lieutenant will start on an extended tour of the country delivering lectures. He promises that on his return here next April he will again allow the dogs to be seen.—N. Y. World.

The Gum Chewing Habit

If girls only knew how they are so often disillusionized in the eyes of nice young men by chewing gum they would quit the habit at once. A pretty face crowned with a tangled yellow bang and featured with a dainty tiptilted nose, a delicately rounded chin, a smiling and rosy mouth, plump cheeks and a smooth and peachy complexion can look sadly distorted and homely when the jaws are worked in a passive and lackadaisical way over a little piece of gum. The prettiness all goes and somehow the sight suggests the cow and her cud.

It is not the gum chewing habit itself but one of its outshoots against which I protest.

This is the constantly growing habit of the chewer of this city to secrete her quid of gum on some article of furniture. A woman never throws away her gum. She hides it. She sticks it under the mantel piece, under the table top, on the head board of the bed or on the back of the chair and leaves it there for future reference.

It is an unnice habit.

It is not a habit of economy to be encouraged either, for a fresh hunk of gum can be bought for less than a cent and will last through the wear and tear of ordinary teeth for at least six months.

I have seen girls who are heiresses to hundreds of thousands stick a quid of gum which they had been chewing on for a week under the mantelpiece as though they considered it of equal value to a diamond ring. Next day they will hunt it up and chew bits of varnish and wood with it.

It is embarrassing to call at one of those houses where a gum girl lives. You are sure to run on traces of her gum proclivities on every piece of furniture you touch. Hard little knots of it are stuck in all sorts of places. When you find them of course you are surprised and say lots of things in a hurry that will probably queer you with the girl forever.—New York Herald.

Mending Gloves.

I saw a pair of suede gloves that most women would have discarded made as good as new the other day. Several of the long pieces between the fingers had given out, though otherwise the gloves were nearly as good as new. So out came a pair of sharp scissors and an old pair of gloves of a similar color. The worn pieces were carefully ripped out and laid lengthwise on an unsoiled place in one of the old gloves as a pattern. The new pieces were then neatly stitched in place.

Some women believe it to be a matter of economy to have more than one pair of gloves of the same color, as sometimes it is the right and sometimes the left glove that is worn out first. The better glove if laid aside may chance to become the mate of one from the second pair, or may be used in mending. As a matter of economy, however, the habit of buying stockings of the same color and quality by the half dozen is more value than in buying gloves in this way.—New York Post.

A Boon to Humanity.

"One of the greatest boons which will result from the industrial emancipation of woman," according to Mr. Carroll D. Wright, "will be the frank admission on the part of the true and chivalric man that she is the sole rightful owner of her own being in every respect, and that whatever companionship may exist between her and man shall be as thoroughly honorable to her as to him. Specifically she will be able to use her mind under conditions which have brought success to her father and brother. In callings where men surpass women, women will be obliged to abandon the field, but where services are performed with equal skill and integrity by both there will come honest competition and an equalization of compensation."

CANNIBALISM AT SEA

Further Particulars of the Surviving Sailors of the Thekla

Later details received regarding the terrible wreck in mid ocean of the well known Norwegian ship Thekla, Captain Hansen, which sailed from Philadelphia December 2 for Havre, France, state that there appears to be no longer any doubt that there is good ground for the charge of cannibalism brought against the only three survivors of the wreck, who were landed recently in Hamburg in a demented state by the Dutch bark Hermann, an account of which appeared in these columns.

The fate of the captain and eight men who deserted the Thekla in the life boat is yet unknown, but it is feared they have perished, as the weather was very stormy. According to the previous reports Ole Anderson, Christian Hjalwar Jacobsen and Alexander Johansen, the survivors, were saved after being sixteen days in the rigging of the derelict without food of any kind.

A Dutch sailor offered to sacrifice himself to preserve the lives of his comrades. The others refused to accept the sacrifice unless lots were drawn. This was accordingly done, and the lot fell upon the Dutchman, who was then killed by the three Scandinavians, who carefully preserved the blood, which served as their sustenance until they were rescued by the Hermann in latitude 39 20, longitude 22 46.

The crew of the Hermann had great difficulty in saving the three survivors, who were half demented and incapable of movement. They seemed riveted to their perch in the rigging and had not the power to release their grip.

The case has developed into one of the greatest interest, as the three unfortunate creatures have been placed under arrest, charged with the crime of murder on the high seas.

Anderson and Jacobson have to a considerable extent recovered, but Johansen is still unaccountable for his actions. He has been taken to the hospital at Cuxhaven where he is under police supervision.

The arrests were made on information given by the members of the crew of the rescuing vessel who repeated to the judicial authorities the statement made by the shipwrecked sailors and in pursuance of a telegraphic request received by authorities at Cuxhaven, from the Norwegian Consul General at Hamburg.

As the crime laid to their charge was committed in neutral waters on a ship flying the Norwegian flag, it is understood that the accused will be handed over to the Scandinavian authorities and brought to trial in their own country.

Seafaring men state that while the action of the Norwegian Consul General in this case is not without precedent, a case has never been known where a jury convicted men of murder for cannibalism under such desperate circumstances. The three accused men are well known in "Sailortown" in Philadelphia, having frequently shipped from there before.

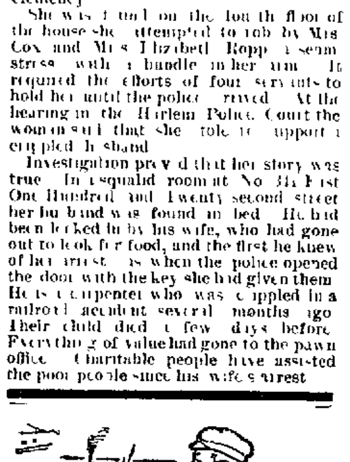
THE WOMAN BURGLAR'S PLEA

She Said She Stole to Support Her Crippled Husband

Mrs. Elizabeth Harden, the English woman who is charged with burglary in breaking into the boarding house of Mrs. Margaret Cox, of No. 260 West One Hundred and Twenty fifth street, New York, on Friday last, was arraigned in Part I of the General Sessions Court and pleaded not guilty. There are some peculiar features about her case which may lead to clemency.

She was found on the fourth floor of the house she attempted to rob by Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Elizabeth Ropp, a seamstress, with a bundle in her arm. It required the efforts of four servants to hold her until the police arrived. At the hearing in the Harlem Police Court the woman said that she stole to support a crippled husband.

Investigation proved that her story was true. In a squalid room at No. 315 East One Hundred and Twenty second street her husband was found in bed. He had been locked in by his wife, who had gone out to look for food, and the first he knew of her arrest was when the police opened the door with the key she had given them. He is a carpenter who was crippled in a railroad accident several months ago. Their child died a few days before. Everything of value had gone to the pawn office. Charitable people have assisted the poor people since his wife's arrest.



A new man can be made, out of one that's "used up," bilious and dyspeptic. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength. It's the only Blood and Liver Remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure. If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, the money is promptly refunded. But it keeps its promises—that's the reason it can be sold in this way.

"Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit. There's nothing at all like the "Discovery."

Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kincheloe, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
